

VISTA TRAVEL, INC. EXPERIENCED AGENTS MAKE A WORLD OF DIFFERENCE

Internet discount travel sites offer some great deals on airfares, hotel rooms and do-it-yourself travel plans. But what if something goes wrong? Bad weather, an overbooked flight or hotel, illness, or any number of unpleasant surprises can turn a great deal into a great debacle without warning. You've waited months or even years to enjoy your vacation. Why not enjoy it with confidence? And if you are headed off on an important business trip, can you afford to leave anything to chance?

Peter Scocca Sr., CEO and Peter Scocca II, Executive Vice President

For 35 years, Vista Travel has been offering clients the utmost confidence as they travel the country and the world. This family-owned travel agency headquartered in Colonia, N.J., with offices in Hazlet and Tinton Falls, has extensive, firsthand knowledge of destinations both popular and off the beaten path.

(left to right) Judy Baldasare, office manager; Liz Longo, Accounting/MIS Dept.; Nadine Matthews, Leisure Agent; Renee Scheiss, Corp. Agent; Michelle Attardo Corp. Agent.; and Robin Scocca Admin. Assistant.

"As professional travel agents, we make it our business to be very familiar with places around the world," says Peter Scocca II, executive vice president. "If there's somewhere you want to go, chances are a Vista Travel agent has been there and can provide one-on-one advice on how to make the most of your trip." And, Scocca notes, experienced travel agents not only simplify research, planning and purchasing, they can often enhance a trip with value-added benefits and amenities.

"Perhaps the most important reason to use a travel agent," Scocca says, "is that you will have someone to call if anything goes wrong. Even a well-planned trip can run into problems, and Internet ticket brokers often don't provide backup if a hurricane or snowstorm suddenly changes your itinerary. At Vista Travel, we have someone available at all times to quickly help you adjust all your travel plans if the need arises."

In addition to vacation planning, Vista Travel offers corporate travel services including expense reporting and online booking tools, meeting and incentive-trip planning and continuing education cruises for physicians through the Center for Continuing Professional Education, a Vista subsidiary. Vista is the preferred travel agency for the State of New Jersey, New York University, Seton Hall, the New Jersey Institute of Technology, Wagner College and the women's NIT college basketball tournament.

MORE OPTIONS WITH AMERICAN EXPRESS

Being a representative of American Express means Vista Travel has access to a myriad of special offers for vacationers and business travelers. Vista Travel and American Express Vacations present a wide variety of best-in-class services, including first- and business-class airfares from all major gateways. American Express Vacations Plan-Ahead Services can confirm golf tee times, dinner reservations, spa treatments, children's services, specialty transfers, tours and excursions, and now offers luggage delivery and passport expediting services — all at no extra cost. In addition, the "Cancel for Any Reason" Travel Protection Plan allows you to cancel your trip for a full refund for any reason, right up to the time of departure — no questions asked.

In 2005, Vista Travel was named an American Express Representative of Excellence. The agency has also been named a top-100 agency by Royal Caribbean Cruise Lines and one of the top agencies in the state by New Jersey Business magazine.

VISTA TRAVEL
Headquarters
COLONIA, N.J.
800-227-1300
www.travelwithvista.com

Branch Offices — Vista Travel, Hazlet, N.J. 732-739-2424 • Four Seasons Travel, Tinton Falls, N.J. 732-922-8580
GWE Travel, New York, N.Y. • GWE Travel, Sausalito, Calif.